As Director of Corporate Solutions, Lindsey provides corporate clients transaction management expertise and direct experience evaluating and optimizing leased and owned corporate real estate portfolios. Lindsey joined Madison Marquette with the 2019 merger of The Roseview Group.

Prior to joining Roseview in 2015, Lindsey worked as a broker at DTZ (now Cushman & Wakefield). She represented both regional and national firms with lease restructures, renewals, relocations, acquisitions and dispositions. She implemented creative solutions to address clients' current real estate needs while supporting their long-term business plans. Lindsey began her real estate career at JLL in the construction management group.

Lindsey received her B.A. in Asian Studies from Trinity College and also earned an M.B.A. from Boston University.
